CONSULTATION/PLEDGE CARD

The University of Worcester board of Governors has agreed that the University should become a signatory for the Charter for Compassion.

The Charter for Compassion calls on individuals in institutions to adhere to the principles which are summed up in the Golden Rule: "Always treat all others as you wish to be treated yourself."

How we plan to do this is communicated through the values expressed in The University of Worcester Strategic Plan (2013-2018)

"We aim to make a truly transformative contribution to the lives of our students, our staff and the people of our region and to make a very positive impact in society more broadly".

What do you think should be the behaviours of people who study and work at a compassionate University?

What part can you play in helping the University become an active supporter of the Charter for Compassion?

Would you like to be an individual supporter of the Charter?
If so, sign the charter for compassion at www.charterforcompassion.org

I signed the charter I am a student / member of staff

What will you aim to do as a Charter supporter?
