

Useful Links

www.advantagewm.co.uk - The regional development agency for the West Midlands. www.cannock-chase.co.uk - Cannock Chase was amongst one of the first areas to be designated as an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB) in 1958. There are 40 AONBs in England and Wales, and along with National Parks they make up our finest landscapes.

www.ceh.ac.uk - The Centre for Ecology and Hydrology (CEH) is the leading body in the UK for research, survey, and monitoring in terrestrial and freshwater environments.

The Worcester Diocese - The Diocese of Worcester consists of 126 parishes and three missions in Worcester County.

www.environment-agency.gov.uk - The Environment Agency deals with issues such as flooding, pollution, cleaning contaminated habitats and controlling the impact of industry on air, land and water quality, rivers and coastal waters.

www.herefordshirepartnership.com - The Herefordshire Partnership involves public, private and voluntary sector organisations working together to: make the best use of the county's resources; share information and resources and avoid duplication.

www.housingcorp.gov.uk - The Housing Corporation is responsible for investing public money in housing associations and for protecting that investment to ensure that it provides decent homes and services for residents.

www.malvernhillsaonb.org.uk - The Malvern Hills area was designated as an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB) in 1959. There are 40 AONBs in England and Wales, and along with National Parks they make up our finest landscapes.

www.naturalengland.org.uk - Natural England is the statutory body dealing with the conservation and enhancement of wildlife, geology, and landscapes in rural, urban, coastal and marine areas in England. It also has a responsibility to help people enjoy, understand and access the natural environment.

The Rare Breeds Survival Trust - The Rare Breeds Survival Trust was founded in 1973 to conserve Britain's native livestock heritage, no breed of British farm animal has become extinct since.

www.shropshirehillsaonb.co.uk - The Shropshire Hills were one of the first areas to be designated as an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB) in 1958. There are 40 AONBs in England and Wales, and along with National Parks they make up our finest landscapes.

www.shropshireonline.gov.uk - This website holds information on services available in the county and the activities of the local government in Shropshire.

www.westmercia.police.uk - The local police force covering Herefordshire, Shropshire and Worcestershire.

www.woodland-trust.org.uk - The Woodland Trust is the UK's leading conservation charity dedicated to the protection of native woodland heritage.

Worcestershire County Council - This website holds local information for residents and visitors to the county of Worcestershire.

www.wyevalleyaonb.org.uk - The Wye Valley was designated as an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB) in 1971. There are 40 AONBs in England and Wales, and along with National Parks they make up our finest landscapes.

© University of Worcester Henwick Grove, WR2 6AJ Tel: 01905 855000 - Last reviewed: Thursday, 24 May 2012

Page can be found:

Home / Discover Worcester / Academic departments / Institute of Science and the Environment / Research / Centre for Rural Research / Useful Links

<http://www.worcester.ac.uk/discover/crrusefulHinks.html>