

Graduate Ambassadors

An insider's guide

Our dedicated team of Graduate Ambassadors are ready to share their knowledge and experience with your students, helping them make informed choices about Higher Education. Graduate Ambassadors are trained members of staff who can talk authentically about making friends, settling in and campus life; answering the key question of what university is really like and demystifying areas like student finance and the application process. Graduate Ambassadors offer a fresh, realistic and unique insight into university life based on first-hand experience.

Our interactive talks and workshops are offered free of charge and can be tailored to suit your students' needs. Our year planner suggests what might be useful to you depending on the time of year and a complete list of our talks and workshops is available below. We are also active on social media such as Facebook and Twitter where we post up to date blogs, hints and tips about university life.
