

Martin Woodford

Senior Lecturer in Creative Digital Media

Institute of Humanities & Creative Arts

Contact Details

email: m.woodford@worc.ac.uk

tel:

Qualifications

BA(Hons), MA, PGCE

Martin Woodford is a specialist in video and film production and passes on his considerable skills and knowledge in the video strands of Creative Digital Media. He has worked with film and video for over 30 years, undertaking commissions in a wide range of productions and has won awards in the process. Martin studied at York St John's College, where he studied Drama, Film and Television with English, the Northern Film School, where he took an MA in Film Production, and then Hull College of Higher Education. Apart from film and video production, and film and video education, his research interest is British Cinema. In his spare time, Martin is a singer and guitarist. In addition to music, his other interests include motorcycles and designing and making stained glass.

Teaching & Research

Video and film production.

Professional Bodies

Publications

External Responsibilities

© University of Worcester Henwick Grove, WR2 6AJ Tel: 01905 855000 - Last reviewed: Thursday, 24 May 2012

Page can be found:

Home / Discover Worcester / Academic departments / Institute of Humanities and Creative Arts / Meet our experts / Martin Woodford

<http://www.worcester.ac.uk/discover/martin-woodford.html>