Lifelong learning at Worcester

If you are a mature student, thinking of returning to study for professional development or personal interest, you will be in good company at Worcester. We have a long history of extending opportunities and supporting adult learners who wish to progress into higher education.

We attract the most talented students from all educational backgrounds and positively welcome the contribution adults make to the University. Age and experience can be a distinct advantage with the skills, motivation and life experience you bring with you.

I went into IT after school. A lot of what I used to do has been outsourced abroad and I wasn't happy in my job. It's been a breath of fresh air to be doing something challenging again.
