

Research Methods in Healthcare

MSAP4002

You will normally be expected to do Challenging and Enhancing Services as your first module to enable you to make the best of your MSc studies.

This module develops students' knowledge of research methodology and research design, building upon undergraduate work. Students will explore the philosophy, theory and practice of research in their own discipline and professional practice (where this is applicable). Students will explore the application of selected qualitative and quantitative research methods to investigate questions about health, social welfare and care services.

Assessment:

Written assignment based on a critical review of the literature to justify a research methodology.
