

The management of health and wellbeing in General Practice Nursing GPNC4002

This module facilitates General Practice Nurses (GPN) to develop clinical decision making, leadership and management skills to meet the complex needs of the general practice population, including contemporary management of long-term conditions across the lifespan.

Concordant relationships with clients and their families or carers, will be promoted, developed and enhanced to positively influence health, wellbeing and self-care.

This module will enable General Practice Nurses to critically reflect on current practice to identify an evidence-based quality improvement initiative, which could shape future complex care provision in General Practice

Assessment

Quality improvement project (3000 words)

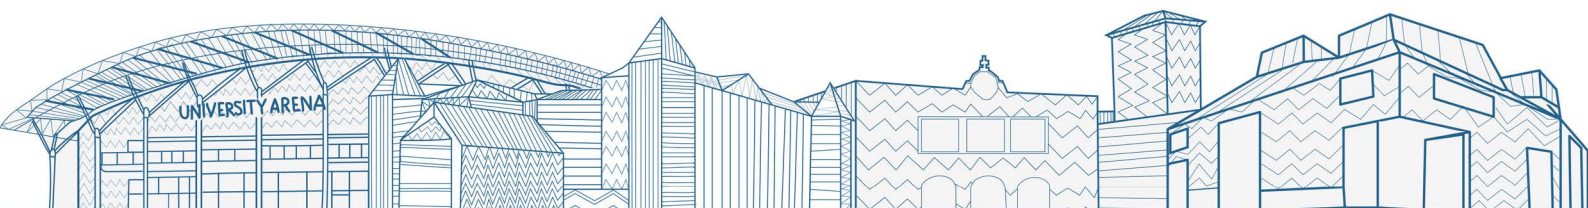

E-Portfolio of competencies incorporating a reflective log.

Further information

For information please visit the course web page.

The Postgraduate Certificate in General Practice Nursing requires the successful completion of GPNC4001 and GPNC4002.

Continues on the next page.

Course leader

Sarah Weaver

s.weaver@worc.ac.uk

Credits

Level 7, 30 Credits

Dates

Course induction: 20 September 2021

11, 18 October 2021

1 November

8, 25, 29 November 2021

6 December 2021

17, 31 January 2022

21 February 2022

7, 21 March 2022

4 April 2022

Presentation Day: 25 April 2022

Course review day: 13 June 2022

(09.15 – 16.15)

General enquiries

Please contact the Nursing and Midwifery Administrator on tel: 01905 855334 or e-mail: cpdinfo@worc.ac.uk

